A technical line drawing of a four-legged stool. The stool has four curved legs and a rectangular seat. A circular inset provides a detailed view of the seat's construction, showing a vertical support piece with a horizontal bar passing through it. The inset is labeled with letters B, C, G, H, E, K, and G, indicating specific components and fasteners. The main drawing uses perspective, showing the stool from a side-on view.

A technical line drawing of a chair, labeled 'D'. The chair features a high, curved backrest and a side support structure on the left. The backrest is composed of several horizontal slats. The side support is a curved frame that connects to the backrest and the seat. The chair has four legs, with the front legs being slightly angled outwards. The drawing is a perspective view, showing the chair from the side and slightly from the front.

A line drawing of a modern-style chair. It features a high, curved backrest and a seat made of two parallel horizontal slats. The chair is supported by four legs, with the front legs having a slight curve. The drawing is a simple black-and-white outline.
